A Message from Imogen and Boti

It may be almost the end of the year but life at Olive Hill definitely isn't coming to a halt just yet, what with all of the events going on. Speaking of that, let's get you up-to-date with all of the news this week!

So many trips have occurred this week with the brass outing utilising the brand new mini bus which was purchased on Monday! We have seen it already and it's fair to say that this school is extremely fortunate to own a new mini bus!

Over 500 children from schools across the local area attended at Dudley Town Hall for a woodwind workshop. 7 children from Olive Hill visited: everyone thoroughly enjoying it.

Let's not forget the Year 2's trip to Birmingham Wildlife Park and Year 4's trip to a farm.

We even spoke to two members of Magnolia class: "The trip was very fun; the dairy maid was very thoughtful and kind." -Charlotte Gilbert. "We learnt a lot about being a farmer. It was also very interesting and educational!" -Tia Johnson-Breen.

Remember to keep hydrated this week as the weather has been tremendously hot. You might as well start to do some sun-bathing during the holidays. As if, Imogen!

I think I've still got the Victorian song stuck in my head after watching Pine class's humorous assembly! Yeah, but I'm still afraid of Master Barron! If he comes, please alert me, OK Imogen? Well done, Pine class, for all of your effort and hard work, it really wowed us as to how good the production was!

I'm not going to be here next week for a while Boti. Neither am I because Year 6 have their intake day for high school. They'll hopefully enjoy it and have an insight of what their future will hold.

We hope everybody has a great weekend and keep in mind that the science fair winners will be announced shortly.
